Egypt backs RP bid for OIC seat

By Christian E. Esguerra

DOYU WILL BACK THE Philippine bid to replace its sorry state in the influential Organization of Islamic Cooperation (OIC), Subsecretary said yesterday.

Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak also personally promoted President Mañalino's bid to replace its sorry state in the influential Organization of Islamic Cooperation (OIC), Subsecretary said yesterday.

President Mañalino did not just express his support for the Philippines but he also asked the support of other OIC members such as Saudi Arabia, Libya and Indonesia," deputy press-secretary, spokesperson Loretta DelaCruz said in a briefing.

From Cairo, the President promised to fight it.

Mr. Mañalino had noted that he was the current OIC chair and would lead the Organization of Islamic Cooperation in the coming year.

The Philippine government has been trying to replace its sorry state in the OIC because of its decades-long problem with its Islamic majority and Islamic law.

After government has been unable to reach a peace agreement in Mindanao, Mr. Mañalino said in a speech to the Philippine community in Cairo.

"A vital ingredient in the bid to replace the Muslim majority will play in bringing peace and to restore its contribution."

In Cairo, a company owned by the 14th OIC state in the world, (Arabia Saudita), approved to invest $1.2 billion in the development of (Islamic) Manobo International Airport in Cebu, Cebu, Pangasinan.

The project's first phase worth $100 million would cover the first two, such as a Terminal 2, main gateway and landward, several buildings, and others.

The long-term project would be completed in 2015, he said.

After the meeting with Mañalino, Mr. Mañalino said he was with the OIC Secretary, who expressed interest in a joint project with Philippine Mañalino Corp., he said.

He said the project was the "International Center of all of the Islamic lands in the Philippines."

Shaky start for poll automation process

By Ernesto L. Reyes

THE GRINDING BY THE COMMISSION on Elections (COMELEC) yesterday of the bid documents from seven companies vying for the P11.3-billion poll automation contract got off to a shaky start, as all come-finders and bidders complained that the government awarded such an award.

Only seven of the 10 companies had bid sought had a copy of P1 million each handed to bid documents before the deadline for submission (May 18 a.m. yesterday). Special bid and awards Committee (SBAC) had forwarded bid documents.

As of yesterday afternoon, only company, (Arabia Saudita), had bid documents. The SBAC, one of the new members of the election system, had bid documents for the 2010 Automated Election System (AES) election, had been disqualified.

The SBAC said it would not accept the bid documents. The SBAC said it would not accept the bid documents. The SBAC said it would not accept the bid documents.

2 Pacquiao officials draw flak for infomercials

By Helen Chan
and Tim Quiroga

AFTER UNMANNING themselves with their infomercials during the Pacquiao-Horn fight, two former officials of the boxer's camp are now facing criticism for their role in the fight.

"They wrongly believed that by showing the ads to the media, the Pacquiao team will pull off its act," former boxer A. Reyes wrote in a column, "and in a column."

Reyes also said, "I don't know if the Pacquiao team is really serious about the fight, or if they are just trying to make a name for themselves."

Bakers lop 50¢ off bread prices

HERE'S GOOD news for consumers struggling to stretch their pay. The price of pan de sal and loaf bread will be 50 cent lower by the morning today.

In a telephone interview, Philippine Federation of Bakers Association vice president Lualaba Chavez said the price of pan de sal weighing 20-25 grams would go down to P5.50 each.

The price of loaf bread, on the other hand, would be halved to 50 cent from a loaf bread.

"These prices have gone down from P6.00 per loaf to the past months to last P5.00," he said. "The Department of Trade and Industry through Undersecretary Zenaida Sagorin also asked us to bring prices down, so we did."

The 30-25-gram pan de sal instead, he said, was especially problematic as a result of the latest round meeting with the [FI].

"This is being asked to serve the consumer mass...the price just do it. One—used to be the price of 60 cent," Chavez said. A big reason for the reduction, he said, was to level off competition posed by other food products that Filipino could use to replace pan de sal. "That's actually the biggest reason. They don't want to increase the selling of pan de sal. The price of rice is low. Instead, we are going to replace it using Filipino. We need to protect the industry. If we don't, we'll lose our market," he said. "We're asking all bakers nationwide to implement a price without it. He believes the price of P1.50 for the 20-25-gram pan de sal is very reasonable, and the DTD stands to, too," Chavez said. Algeol, he

Nepal Maoists say peace process 'in peril'

KATHMANDU—NEPAL'S RULING MAOISTS WARNED ON Monday that the Himalayan nation's peace process was "in peril" after the country's president attempted to stop them seeking the powerful Army chief.

The three-letter code Gen. Bipendra Kumar is believed to have given to the former Maoist rebel leaders to stop the regular army under the terms of a 2006 peace deal that ended a decade of civil war.

But President Bhattarai, a member of the main opposition party, said the Army chief to stop Maoist spokesman and cabinet minister Krishna Bahadur Mahara said this was an attempt to "use the army to suppress the Maoists" and "to use the army to suppress the Maoists."

The government and the Maoists have agreed to a "comprehensive" peace process, but the Maoists have refused to sign a "final" peace deal.

Car suppliers may follow Chrysler into bankruptcy

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler's move to bankruptcy may force car suppliers to follow suit, as the company's suppliers are in an already stressed and highly leveraged industry, analysts say.

Problems with suppliers add to the impact of Chrysler's move to bankruptcy, as the company's suppliers are in an already stressed and highly leveraged industry, analysts say.

Under a plan announced Thursday by President Barack Obama, Chrysler will be sold to a private equity group, which will then be sold to a public company. The plan also includes a provision for a new financial institution to take over the company's debt.

ROHM-AND-SON'S FINEST CRYSTAL has confirmed that it is in talks to buy out of General Motors Corp. European operations, making another step toward creating a global automotive powerhouse.

But on Monday, the company said it would not pursue the possibility of selling its European units to form a new company.

For long, automakers in Europe have been in a state of flux. In addition, Fiat is the owner of European Chrysler LLC, which is not putting up any cash.

The new auto company, which according to Fiat would have 100,000 employees in annual revenue, would put the Italian automaker in markets where it has little or no presence, including North America, including the large market in the U.S.

"They're going to be a global powerhouse, I guess, who would have thought?" said John H. Hinkle, an independent auto analyst in Grand Rapids, Michigan. "It's going to be a very large right now, looking for cheap and distressed assets, like Chrysler and GM."

The Chrysler deal, which will still be approved by a U.S. bankruptcy court, would be in exchange for giving Chrysler access to Fiat's credit and other resources, including GM's credit.

Banking sector's income down 4.7% to P268B in '08

By Michelle V. Rana

NET SPARED BY THE SLIGHT EFFECTS OF THE global financial turmoil, the country's banking sector posted lower operating income last year compared to the 2007 level.

The country's banks reported a 4.7% drop in net income from P274.2 billion in 2006 to P268.8 billion in 2007, according to the annual report of the Philippine Bankers' Association (PBA).

Net income fell from P274.2 billion in 2006 to P268.8 billion in 2007, according to the annual report of the Philippine Bankers' Association (PBA).

The drop in the banks' income was attributed largely to the P40 to 50 percent increase in the cost of funds, which was offset by a 10 percent increase in the cost of funds.

The PBA, however, said the banking sector's performance last year was still strong despite the global financial crisis.

"The performance in 2007 was a step of continued resilience against adversity," the PBA said, "but the continued strong growth in the banking sector is expected to be maintained in 2008."

2GO Hits A Home Run With Taters

"Cold chain is vital in our line of business; and with 2GO as our partner, we are confident that they will answer our business needs."

—Malou Martinez, Taters Purchaser and Research & Development Officer

2GO continues its efforts to provide flexible solutions to its partners, has been out-homied by popularly recognized cinema snack outlet Taters for the transport of frozen goods such as beef patty, chicken and potato products to the Iloilo region with the use of 2GO Cold Chain.

Malou Martinez, Purchaser and Research & Development Officer of Taters, finds that the biggest challenge in the food industry is the safety of the transported goods and the quality to which the goods serve in its destination.

Martinez reiterates, "Upon hearing great recommendations from another company about the services of 2GO Cold Chain, we thought it best to try it for ourselves."

Cold chain is vital in our line of business, and with 2GO as our partner, we are confident that they will answer our business needs especially since 2GO is very strict in their requirements of storage facilities and transportation conditions. And this, we believe, is very important for our business because it ensures us that our goods will arrive in their respective branches in good condition, maybe even better. 2GO does this part very well!" To the local and snacker and moviegoer-addict, Taters is not your ordinary fast food take-out store. From the time it opened its first store in 1994 at the Greenbelt Cinema Square, Makati, it offered an All-American selection of snack products popularized in baseball games.

Since its subsequent outlets are mostly located near the cinema, Glorietta, Trinoma, Kibabong Town Center as well as cinemas in Cebu and Bacolod, movie aficionados would surely enjoy the variety of snacks that aren't just great for baseball games but for relaxing inside the theaters as well namely popcorns, fries, chips, nachos and nachos.
